💸 Manage Your Devices

On the Account Center site, you can also manage the devices to which you have downloaded the Bookshelf mobile and desktop apps.

All Bookshelf users are allowed to have the desktop application downloaded to two computers and simultaneously have the mobile application downloaded to two mobile devices (tablets and smartphones) at any given time. This provides a total of five potential points of access to their content.

If you exceed the maximum number of device activations, you will have to deactivate a device in your Account Center to be able to use the application on a new one. To deactivate a device, click Devices, then click Deactivate on any devices you no longer want to have your Bookshelf account associated with.
