

Unlock the Power of Equitable Access

Equitable Access (EA) provides day-one access to course materials for all students, at one predictable flat rate.

EA programs even the playing field by offering one low price, regardless of a student's major. See how the benefits of EA extend campus-wide.

Students have a simple, convenient way to access their course materials.

Faculty maintain academic freedom and can be sure their students are ready to learn on the first day of class.

Administrators and campus leadership partner to implement a program that equips the entire institution for success from day one.

The institution and campus store transform the course materials purchasing experience and help reduce the overall carbon footprint of the institution.
